

KTS'75

International center of relevant training, instructive resources, and nurturing networks for evangelical Christians in ministry

Готовить к эффективному служению верующих, способных вести других в развивающихся отношениях с Иисусом Христом.

МИССИЯ СЕМИНАРИИ

To prepare believers for an effective ministry who are able to lead others in a growing relationship with Jesus Christ.

MISSION OF THE SEMINARY

ОГЛАВЛЕНИЕ - CONTENTS

АНОНСЫ

Announcements 4

МОЛИТВЕННЫЕ ПРОСЬБЫ СТУДЕНТОВ

Students Prayer Requests 8

КАЛЕНДАРЬ

Calendar Highlight 9

ЧТЕНИЕ

Bonus Reading 10

АНОНСЫ – ANNOUNCEMENTS

PRAYER, EVANGELISM AND LEADERSHIP DR. ALVIN REID

O P E N SEMINAR

LOCATION: Conference-hall

Friday, March 30 from 19:00 until 21:00

Saturday, March 31 from 9:00 until 12:00

You, any of your students, and any interested persons from your churches are warmly invited to attend.

CONTACT: Dan Upchurch <d_upchurch@kts.org.ua>

STUDENTS PRAYER REQUESTS

СЕРГІЙ ПАХОЛЬЧУК

Моліться, щоб Господь дозволив завершити навчання.

В мого тата рак 4 ст.

В доці (28.01.12 - 1 рік) пахова грижа.

Пішов на роботу, на сесію не відпускають, на лікування не вистачає.

Я не знаю що робити.

SERGII PAKHOLCHUK

Please pray for God's provision to finish my study at KTS.

My father has 4 stage cancer.

My little daughter, who turned 1 years old on January 28, 2012, has got groin hernia.

I have got a job but my employer does not permit me leaving workplace for my study sessions at KTS, we are short in funds for medical treatment.

I do not know what to do.

STUDENTS PRAYER REQUESTS

ВЛАДИМИР ВАРИКАША

Я очень рад, что вы изъявляете желание молиться о студентах, и хотел бы попросить вас молиться о моей семье. Я и моя жена живем в пригороде Киева, в с. Крюковщина. В связи с болезнью, которая есть у моей жены, она не может зачать и иметь детей. Мы ищем способы и лекарства, чтобы преодолеть ее и просим у Бога в этом водительства и мудрости, но как скоро произойдет выздоровление или исцеление, и произойдет оно вообще, мы не знаем. Это очень огорчает мою жену, так что она нередко унывает.

Мы понимаем, что Бог лучше знает, когда нам послать детей, но, как часто это бывает у нас, людей, - нам трудно переступить через себя, свои чувства, желания и сконцентрироваться на Боге, о чем проповедовал Джейсон Гупта на библейском часе.

Помолитесь о том, чтобы Бог дал моей жене силы довериться Богу в разрешении этого вопроса.

VLADIMIR VARIKASHA

I am very glad you desire to pray for students and I would like to ask you to pray for my family. My wife and I live nearby Kyiv in Kryukovschyna village. Due to physical illness of my wife we cannot conceive child. We look for ways and treatment to overcome it and ask God for guidance and wisdom, but we do not know when and if healing will occur. This grieves my wife so she often feels depressed.

We understand that God knows better when to give us kids. But as it often happens with people, it is very hard to step over our own selves, own feelings and wishes and instead to concentrate on God. To do what Jason Gupta recently preached in KTS chapel.

Please pray for God strengthening my wife to trust God in these matters.

STUDENTS PRAYER REQUESTS

СЕРГЕЙ ЮРЧЕНКО

Спасибо за молитвы и переживания которые вы испытываете за нас.

Я прошу молиться о моем молодежном служении в Церкви "Надежда" и особая просьба молится о подготовке и проведении моей свадьбы которая состоится 5 мая 2012 года.

SERGEY YURCHENKO

Thank you for your prayers and concern about students.

I ask you to pray about my youth ministry at Hope church and special request to pray for preparations to my wedding planned on May 5, 2012.

STUDENTS PRAYER REQUESTS

АНДРЕЙ БАХОВЕЦ

Много времени уходит в работе на предприятии, поддержка семьи. Но очень мало времени остаётся для служения в посёлке за городом. Пришёл к выводу, что больше будет пользы, если оставлю работу.

Прошу поддержать в молитве:

Чтобы Господь послал материальную поддержку (вместо работы на предприятии).

Чтобы Господь благословил дальнейшую учёбу в КБС.

Мой друг Андрей Толкачёв из Донецка, просит поддержать в молитве. Попал в тяжёлую ситуацию. Приобрёл домик, чтобы не только проживать с семьёй, но и создать там группу по изучению Библии. Но теперь бывший хозяин с риэлтовой конторой хотят вернуть домик назад.

ANDREI BAKHOVETS

Most of my time I spend working at plant, providing for my family. I do not have much time left for ministry in a small town located nearby my city. I came to conclusion that it will be more beneficial if I leave my current job.

I ask you to uphold me in prayer:

For God's material provision (since I plan to leave my job).

For God's blessing on my continuing study at KTS.

My friend Andrey Tolkachov from Donetsk, asks to pray for him. He is in difficult situation. He purchased a house for his family and planned hosting Bible study group there. But former owner cooperates with realtor firm to return the house.

КАЛЕНДАРЬ – CALENDAR HIGHLIGHT

JUNE 2, 2012

10:00-12:00

COMMENCEMENT ВЫПУСК

2 ИЮНЯ 2012

10:00-12:00

Teaching Strategies That Help Students Learn How to Learn By Sara J. Coffman

What skills do you wish your students had prior to taking your course? Reading comprehension, time management, listening, note-taking, critical thinking, test-taking? Let's face it, most students could benefit from taking a course in learning how to learn. But who wants to take a study skills class?

My solution: sneak study skills into your class along with the content.

COURSE STRUCTURE:

- Select a textbook that has learning aids (study guides, online materials, and/or audio files) and encourage your students to use them.
- Craft your syllabus carefully. By setting the right tone, you can motivate students.
- Design clear, meaningful assignments that enable students to accomplish course objectives.
- Space the workload out evenly throughout the semester.
- If students don't master an assignment the first time, give them constructive feedback, and the chance to redo it. You may not want to do this for every assignment, but doing it for one early in the course "sets the bar" and encourages them to do quality work.

Teaching Strategies That Help Students Learn How to Learn By Sara J. Coffman

THE FIRST WEEK:

- If your class is small, set up interviews with students individually or in pairs to find out why they're taking the course and what they want to get out of it. Not only will you learn about who's in the class, but you'll increase students' commitment to work hard and communicate with you. If the class is large, use email to collect information about students and to establish connections.
- Talk to students about how to study for your course. Give them a list of study techniques recommended by students who've taken the course and earned A's.
- Early in the course, have students use their textbooks in class. By using class time, you acknowledge the book's value. If you can't afford class time, have students do a homework assignment that they can't complete without using the book.
- Offer students time management suggestions. Let them know approximately how much time they should spend on the course each week. Talk about how daily study keeps the information fresh and helps avoid cramming. Show how longer assignments can be broken into small pieces.

Teaching Strategies That Help Students Learn How to Learn By Sara J. Coffman

TECHNIQUES FOR TEACHING:

- Start class with something that gets their attention and then quickly review what was covered in the previous class.
- Show students “tricks of the trade,” or how you learned the material. Talk aloud when you solve a problem. Show students what you do when you get stuck.
- Provide a partial outline and have your students fill in the missing material during the lecture.
- Leave five minutes at the end of each class for students to check their notes with those of their neighbor, review major ideas, and indicate what they thought was important and why.

Teaching Strategies That Help Students Learn How to Learn By Sara J. Coffman

TESTING TIPS:

- Assign study groups prior to the first exam, have them exchange contact information, and require a one-hour study session outside of class. Help them be more productive by providing a study guide and/or sample test questions they can submit for bonus points.
- Give students frequent tests and constructive feedback throughout the course.
- Give a practice test before the actual exam so students get a feel for the types of questions you ask. If you use essay questions, share an example of an A, C, and F answer.
- Take class time to go over the first exam. Talk in detail about the questions most often missed.
- Have students analyze the first exam, or quiz, by writing you a memo that responds to questions like these: Was it harder than expected? Were any of the questions a complete surprise? If so, which ones? Were there any questions you didn't understand or found confusing? If so, rewrite them using your own words. What one change are you going to make when studying for the next quiz? What study strategy did you use that worked well?

These simple strategies teach students learning skills that will make them better students in every course.

Excerpted from "Teaching Strategies That Help Students Learn," The Teaching Professor, 23.7 (2009): 1,8.

Sara J. Coffman, Center for Instructional Excellence, Purdue University.

<http://www.facultyfocus.com/articles/effective-teaching-strategies/teaching-strategies-that-help-students-learn-how-to-learn/>

ABOUT KTS'75

KTS'75 is created

to inform and inspire residential and visiting faculty of KTS to pray specifically,
to teach creatively and to live passionately – all for the glory of Christ.

KTS'75

is an e-publication of Integrated Marketing Communications, Kyiv Theological Seminary.

CONTACT INFO:

imc@kts.org.ua

COVER PHOTO CREDITS:

Thomas Abbs
<http://flickr.com/people/tabsinthe/>